

Secondary School Flexible Scheduling Structures for Personalized Pathways

"Pathways" / Flex Time is the opportunity for students to have agency within the school day, usually guided by an advisor or student support team and a Learning Plan. During this time, depending on age, interests and needs, students may pursue projects, collaborative activities, internships, academic content, and even wraparound services.